ABOUT IVYPREP

As educators, we find the pace at which this generation functions both invigorating and bewildering. But there is a challenge here for us. How do we reap this youth dividend and turn this bundle of enormous energy into an asset , for society at large ? Their expectations of us have changed and their thresholds of aspirations are higher than what they were for us.

Back in the 1980s , reading economics in one of Mumbai's top five colleges , nursing an ambition to do a doctoral thesis under the guidance of Dr. Amartya Sen was a bold dream , today it's the more fancy stuff : London School of Economics and Political Sciences , Harvard University , MIT which have world class research programmes and culture of multidisciplinary collaboration.

Looking at their canvas of aspirations , we are also aware that we in the teaching profession must no longer see ourselves as mere purveyors of information or repositories of wisdom but those who can walk together with them in a journey of discovery , growth and mutual respect.

Both of us have tried to create a workplace that truly values a balanced relationship between intense work and real renewal. This has not only led to fantastic results from the students , but also higher commitment and work satisfaction.

Receiving very good grades and remaining involved in extracurricular pursuits are the two most crucial factors that will help you get into the college of your desires. There are several other factors, but attempt to master these two. Receiving into a best notch college is not tricky it just will take motivation and clever pondering.
